

Thank You

July 2025

Dear Robert,

As I wrap up my rotation in QMA, I wanted to take a moment to sincerely thank you for everything you've done over the past few weeks. I feel incredibly lucky to have had the opportunity to work with you this summer.

From the beginning, I still remember how you shared thoughtful advice during our Superday interview about planning a long-term career path. On my first day, you personally brought me around the floor, introduced me to key people, and encouraged me to start building connections. As someone who's naturally a bit quieter, I really appreciated how you kept encouraging me to step out of my comfort zone in such a supportive way.

Throughout the internship, I always felt that you genuinely cared about the interns. You regularly checked in on my project, and when Scott was away, you stepped in without hesitation. Thank you for taking the time to go over my slides with me almost every day—your feedback really helped me understand how to explain my work clearly from the industry perspective. I also learned a lot from the way you gave advice on communicating with managers, keeping people in the loop, and being thoughtful about how we present progress.

I also want to thank you deeply for choosing me to join QMA and work on this project. It's been a challenging yet incredibly meaningful experience, and I truly felt that I was working on something innovative and impactful. This was my first internship on the trading floor, and it's been an unforgettable experience—I've grown so much, both technically and professionally, and a big part of that is because of your mentorship.

If I have the opportunity to return full-time, I'd be excited to continue learning from you and the QMA team. Thank you again for making this rotation so rewarding.

Warmly,
Annie
